The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(a) the invention was known or used by others in this country, or patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country, before the invention thereof by the applicant for a patent.

Claims 1-30 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(a) as being anticipated by Novell.

The Novell Certified Directory Engineer-Practicum (cited in applicant's IDS) anticipates a computer implemented system method for evaluating a user's information technology skills by having the user complete a practical exercise that is associated with one or more virtual machines. Novell displays to the user information that is associated with the practical exercise, wherein the information describes a task that the user is instructed to complete, and wherein the user uses one or more of the virtual machines to complete the task, and launches the one or more virtual machines so that the user can use the virtual machines to perform the task. [See p.2, wherein "you will be accessing a live lab directory environment via remote access emulating an IT support environment", (emphasis added)] [See p. 4 wherein "the ABC Company has 5 servers". "Two servers are at the corporate headquarters in NEW York, and three are at remote offices in London, Paris, and Tokyo." (virtual machines)] ["the MIS staff at ABC would like to merge the IS.LOND.ABC partition with the LON.ABC partition, but have been unable to do this due to NDS errors". "You must accomplish the following tasks to successfully complete this scenario: ... " (practical exercise; task description)]

Novel anticipates the setting of a timer to expire after a certain amount of time has elapsed. [p. 4 ("time limit to the exam"); p. 5 "If you have not completed the exam, but the time expires, your exam will end and will be graded based on the stat of the directory at that point in time.”]

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure: the training systems of Judd et al, Gillio, Sather et al and Eggert et al.
